

A Note from Mr. Will

Well met,

It's hard to believe that July has gone already; this summer is zooming by at warp speed! I was able to get a new bubble machine just in time for my storytime event last week. What would storytime be without a cascade of bubbles! Join us for more outdoor storytimes every Tuesday at 11:00 a.m.

I am beginning to draw up plans for International Games Day on November 15th. It is possible that we will be able to have the library open that day to celebrate the national event with games of all sorts to include (but not limited to) card games, video games, Dungeons and Dragons, strategy games and collectable card games. If you would like to be involved in such an event, please do reach out to me to be in the loop as the plan evolves.

I wanted to give a shout out about our new Newberg Library Self-Check app. It works as part of our new RFID gates to allow patrons to check out items without the need to wait in line. To learn more, look for the posters around the library for full details.

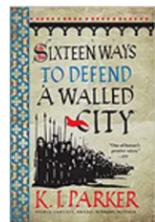

We have had some preliminary information back about our atrium roof repair project (the problems all stem from the glass roof not the walls). I feel that we are getting closer to solving this long-running problem, and I hope to have more news soon.

Lastly, we LOVE having you all back in the building with our new hours. Let your friends know that we are fully open!

As ever, be mighty!
